General Information

Given the current situation, the University of Stuttgart provides ongoing information on developments with regard to teaching in the summer term 2020

→ <https://www.uni-stuttgart.de/en/university/news/corona/>

All courses of SoSe 2020 (lecture, tutorial, seminar and project study) are still provided, except for the course of Hon. Prof. Harms („Simulation von Umbrüchen in der internationalen Wirtschaft“); the courses are carried out with the help of records which can be accessed via ILIAS (see the information on the following pages)

- if face-to-face courses become possible again in the course of the semester, they will be held exclusively or in addition to the courses records. You will be informed about this on the homepage of the chair.
- regardless the format of the courses (face to face or digital), please take into account the regulation of the state government on infection protective measures against the spread of the SARS Cov 2 virus CoronaVO

- questions on the contents of the lectures will of course be answered, but preliminary via phone and e-mail. For appointments with Prof. Oesterle, please contact the secretary's office due to his additional function as dean and the respective limited availability.
- to be able to answer all questions promptly and appropriately, we ask you to collect them, for example in digital learning groups, and to forward them in bundles to the respective staff member
- even in case of group work, e. g. in seminars, please only coordinate digitally or by phone
- if there are no face to face lectures, literature recommendations for in depth studies are given in the respective presentation slides and in the respective lecture recordings available via ILIAS
- an exam review (Klausureinsicht) in the usual way is (yet) not possible; if you would like to receive feedback on an exam you have taken, please contact the respective staff member by phone
